

Submit manuscripts via JOMI's online submission service:www.manuscriptmanager.com/jomi

Manuscripts should be uploaded as a PC Word (doc) file with tables and figures preferably embedded at the end of the document.

No paper version is required.

Acceptable material. Original articles are considered for publication on the condition they have not been published or submitted for publication elsewhere (except at the discretion of the editors). Articles concerned with reports of basic or clinical research, clinical applications of implant research and technology, proceedings of pertinent symposia or conferences, quality review papers, and matters of education related to the implant field are invited.

Number of authors. Authors listed in the byline should be limited to four. Secondary contributors can be acknowledged at the end of the article. (Special circumstances will be considered by the editorial chairman.)

Review/editing of manuscripts. Manuscripts will be reviewed by the editorial chairman and will be subjected to blind review by the appropriate section editor and editorial staff consultants with expertise in the field that the article encompasses. The publisher reserves the right to edit accepted manuscripts to fit the space available and to ensure conciseness, clarity, and stylistic consistency, subject to the author's final approval.

Adherence to guidelines. Manuscripts that are not prepared in accordance with these guidelines will be returned to the author before review.

MANUSCRIPT PREPARATION

- The journal will follow as much as possible the recommendations of the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (Vancouver Group) in regard to preparation of manuscripts and authorship (Uniform requirements for manuscripts submitted to biomedical journals. Ann Intern Med 1997;126:36-47). See <http://www.icmje.org>

- Manuscripts should be double-spaced with at least a one-inch margin all around. Number all pages. Do not include author names as headers or footers on each page.

- Title page. Page 1 should include the title of the article and the name, degrees, title, professional affiliation, and full address of all authors. Phone, fax, and e-mail address must also be provided for the corresponding author, who will be assumed to be the first-listed author unless otherwise noted. If the paper was presented before an organized group, the name of the organization, location, and date should be included.

- Abstract/key words. Page 2 of the manuscript should include the article title, a maximum 300-word abstract, and a list of key words not to exceed 6. Abstracts for basic and clinical research articles must be structured with the following sections: (1) Purpose, (2) Materials and Methods, (3) Results, and (4) Conclusions. Abstracts for all other types of articles (ie, literature reviews, clinical reports, technologies, and case reports) should not exceed 250 words and need not be structured.

- Introduction. Summarize the rationale and purpose of the study, giving only pertinent references. Clearly state the working hypothesis.

- Materials and Methods. Present materials and methods in sufficient detail to allow confirmation of the observations. Published methods should be referenced and discussed only briefly, unless modifications have been made. Indicate the statistical methods used, if applicable.

- Results. Present results in a logical sequence in the text, tables, and illustrations. Do not repeat in the text all the data in the tables or illustrations; emphasize only important observations.

- Discussion. Emphasize the new and important aspects of the study and the conclusions that follow from them. Do not repeat in detail data or other material given in the Introduction or Results section. Relate observations to other relevant studies and point out the implications of the findings and their limitations.

- Conclusions. Link the conclusions with the goals of the study but avoid unqualified statements and conclusions not adequately supported by the data. In particular, authors should avoid making statements on economic benefits and costs unless their manuscript includes the appropriate economic data and analyses. Avoid claiming priority and alluding to work that has not been completed. State new hypotheses when warranted, but clearly label them as such.

- Acknowledgments. Acknowledge persons who have made substantive contributions to the study. Specify grant or other financial support, citing the name of the supporting organization and grant number.

- Abbreviations. The full term for which an abbreviation stands should precede its first use in the text unless it is a standard unit of measurement.

- Trade names. Generic terms are to be used whenever possible, but trade names and manufacturer name, city, state, and country should be included parenthetically at first mention.

- Numbers. Per SI convention, authors are requested to use decimal points rather than commas for fractional numbers.

REFERENCES

- All references must be cited in the text, numbered in order of appearance.

- The reference list should appear at the end of the article in numeric sequence.

- Do not include unpublished data or personal communications in the reference list. Cite such references parenthetically in the text and include a date.

- Avoid using abstracts as references.

- Provide complete information for each reference, including names of all authors (up to six). If the reference is to part of a book, also include title of the chapter and names of the book's editor(s).
